

KICHERER Unveils New Tuning Products For The Mercedes SL600 And 2008 C-Class

{mosgoogle right}As luck would have it, yesterday, the one day I couldn't make it into the office due to what turned out to be a four hour dental appointment, was one of the busiest days for Mercedes news that we've had the past couple of weeks. So to those of you who sent us tips yesterday: a huge thanks; don't worry, we see 'em, and I'm doing my best to cover them all as quickly as possible. First up comes a story that's already been published on what appears to be every other automotive blog in existence: the news that Mercedes tuner KICHERER has released the SL K 60 Evo Black tuning package for the SL600. Boasting an enhanced V12 outputting 605hp/445kW, the SL K 60 Evo is capable of accelerating from 0-62 mph in 4.3 seconds, 0-124 mph in 14.2 seconds, and attaining an electronically-limited top speed of 186 mph...
