

Mercedes-Benz At The 2008 International Commercial Vehicle Show

{mosgoogle right}As the 2008 International Commercial Vehicle Show once again prepares to open its doors to the public, Daimler today has taken a moment to detail what to expect from both Mercedes-Benz and the rest of their commercial vehicle lineup at the upcoming show. In total, more than 80 vehicles from Daimler will be on display including a number of world premiers, all of which "embody leadership in innovation in terms of safety, environmental compatibility and economic efficiency."

Â

Read moreÂ