Mercedes Guardian: Video Of The Mercedes S600 Armored Vehicle In Action

{mosgoogle right}As you may remember, a little over a week ago Mercedes released details of their S600 Guard model, an armored vehicle boasting of a B6/B7 protection level and the perfect personal transportation choice for those in need of superlative vehicular safety. While it's true reading about the S600 Guard's extensive list of safety features is enjoyable, such as the fact it's capable of withstanding up to military-grade small arms projectiles, we all know that actually seeing the S600 Guard repellin an explosion is much, much more enjoyable.

Mercedes Guardian Pictures HERE

From the Press Release:

Mercedes-Benz has completed the new S-Class range by introducing an armoured special-protection model. Thanks to its factory-integrated protective features, the new S-Guard (Mercedes Guardian)Â provides a unique level of protection against attacks and threats posed by violent crime. The new model is initially available in Mercedes-Benz S 600 Guard guise, with a twelve-cylinder engine and a long wheelbase.