

World Premier: The New Smart ForTwo Makes Its Official Debut

{mosgoogle right}It's official ladies and gentlemen - just four days after the first photos of the next smart fortwo began their trek across the internet, DaimlerChrysler today has officially taken the wraps off their new model, finally revealing to the world what to expect from the stylish, incredibly fuel-efficient micro-car. What's the best way to describe the new smart fortwo? 'The new smart fortwo can do everything that the current model can do - but better' says DaimlerChrysler, and looking at the specs, I'd have to agree.
