New Smart ForTwo To Make Special Advance Public World Premier In Bologna, Italy

{mosgoogle right}As you undoubtedly remember, last month, DaimlerChrysler took the wraps off the next smart fortwo, finally revealing to the world what to expect from the upcoming mini model. Today, the company has released details of who will be fortunate enough to witness first the smart fortwo in the flesh, with residents of Italy, or more specifically, Bologna, the ones chosen. Festivities planned for the grand unveiling, which will take place in the town's Piazza Maggiore square, include performances by musical artists Giovanni Allevi, Lâ€™Aura and Finley; a stunning presentation designed and directed by Valerio Festi, one of the designers in charge of the winter Olympic opening; and last but certainly not least, a contemporary dance number by the 'Krumpers', directed by none other than David LaChapelle.

Â

Read moreÂ