

European Pricing For The 2008 Mercedes-Benz C-Class Announced

{mosgoogle right}You've seen the photos; you've read the technical specifications; for many of you, only one question remains: 'How much is going to cost to plant myself behind the wheel of the lovely new 2008 Mercedes C-Class?' Today, that question has been answered, with Mercedes releasing the European pricing information for the new C-Class lineup. Starting at a base price of EUR 29,988 for the C 180 Kompressor all the way up through EUR 44,328 for the C 350, pricing has remained relatively comparable to the outgoing model, which, considering the extensive list of standard specifications included with the 2008 C-Class, makes the new model an extremely desirable prospect.
