Italian Car Magazine Confirms Low Fuel Consumption Of Smart ForTwo CDI

{mosgoogle right}Those of you questioning the validity of smart's fuel consumption claims can breathe a deep sigh of relief, thanks the to Italian magazine 'Quattroruote.' On a recent 1,000 kilometer journey from Rome to Salzburgon, the publication found that the diesel smart was capable of achieving its remarkable stated consumption of just 3.3 liters per 100 kilometers (that's a touch over 71 mpg for my American readers), with the model sojourning the entire distance on a single tank of fuel.
