The Mercedes-Benz C63 AMG Dressed In Gold And/Or Chrome

{mosgoogle right}If you're wondering what the Mercedes-Benz C63 AMG looks like clad in a garish gold/chrome paint job, then wonder no more, as our friend Vincent over at Autoblog.nl directed us to photos depicting this very subject. It's difficult to discern whether or not the C63 is actually gold or whether or it's more of a gold color mixed with chrome, as it could be the lighting that increases the model's golden appearance, but either way, it's one fantastically lurid paint color that few would dare to actually place on their vehicle.

Â

Read moreÂ