

M-Class Named One Of AAA's Top Car Picks For 2006

{mosgoogle right} AAA has announced their selections for 2006's top cars today, naming the Mercedes M-Class their choice in the "SUV $30,000+" category. The M-Class was one of thirteen different vehicles chosen in the event, with other winners including the Honda Ridgeline in the "Pick Up Truck" category and the Chevrolet Corvette in the "Cool Car" category. According to John Nielsen, director of the AAA Auto Buying and Auto Repair Network, "From fuel-saving hybrids to sporty, high performance vehicles, those looking to purchase a new vehicle in 2006 will be pleasantly surprised to see they have many makes and models from which to choose from. The difficult decision consumers may face now is how to narrow their selection to just one."
