2010 Mercedes-Benz E-Class Estate Makes Its Official Debut

{mosgoogle right}Mercedes today has officially taken the wraps off the 2010 E-Class Estate, a highly functional variant of the E-Class that will launch this November. As youd expect, the models styling closely resembles that of the sedan version save for the vastly more grocery friendly rear end, with designers choosing to emphasize horizontal lines (note the band formed by the tail lights and chromed tailgate, for example), all of which serves to emphasize the supreme functionality of the estate.

Â

Read moreÂ