

A Look At The FAB DESIGN Mercedes-Benz SLR McLaren Desire

{mosgoogle right}While its true Mercedes partnership with McLaren in regards to producing the SLR has ended, that hasnt stopped FAB DESIGN from taking aim at tuning the model. FAB has finally released details of a model that made its debut in Geneva – one that theyre calling the SLR "Desire."

From a design standpoint, its clear FABs SLR is anything but an ordinary SLR McLaren. A vastly different front and rear apron are present, as are additional widened body panels in both the front and back. New side skirts have also been added, while a rear spoiler completes the exterior enhancements.
